Helena Xpress Singers invite vocalists

Helena's Sweet Adeline chorus – the Xpress Singers – invites interested women singers to rehearse and perform with the group during the Christmas season. Rehearsals are 6:30 p.m. every Monday night at the Capital Hill Mall in Helena.

"This is a chance for women from our area of the state to sing with us for a short time, have fun, and contribute to the community," says Barb Leland, co-director of the chorus. "Membership in the Xpress Singers is not required."

Several performances are scheduled for December, including a Christmas show at St. Paul's Methodist Church on the 20th of the month.

Helena's Xpress Singers, who sing four-part a cappella harmonies, have been entertaining around the Capital City for over 40 years.

For more information about the group or the Christmas Chorus, call Janice Crawley at 459-8267, or visit HelenaXpress Singers.com.
